"Feathers" takes place in the 1970s and begins when a boy walks into the classroom who is very different from the other kids there. Or maybe he isn't so different... Where it takes place: I never name the place but was imagining this point between the Brooklyn and Queens border — right near Kennedy Airport. Where I wrote it:

Community Reviews. Jacqueline Woodson is one of my favorite authors. Feathers is a gem of a book. The book spans only a short period of time, but in that time Frannie realizes the world isn't as black and white as she thought. Woodson's lyrical prose makes this character driven novel a beautiful and poignant book.

Feathers by Jacqueline Woodson, Paperback - Barnes & Noble

The theme of "hope" recurs in the description of the Black Power movement, and in Frannie's musings on the Emily Dickinson poem, "Hope is the thing with feathers." Developing this metaphor, Woodson captures perfectly the questions and yearnings of a girl perched on the edge of adolescence, a girl who readers will take into their hearts and be ...
